FOREWORD

The Town of Weymouth is the second oldest town in Massachusetts. It was settled in 1623, just three years after the settling of old "Plimoth Plantation". Weymouth lies on Massachusetts Bay about 25 miles north of Plymouth and about 12 miles south of Boston, following the major highways. In my younger days, Weymouth had three things. It was the ancestral homeland of all Tirrells; it's sons fathered the shoe industry of America; and it was the home of both my paternal and maternal grandparents - and what youth doesn't like to visit his grandparents.

I am not a native of Weymouth, but was born in the City of Brockton, which is located about 10 miles distant from Weymouth. Here I spent my youth, until I married and entered the business world. My father, Wilson Tirrell 3rd, was born in the South Precinct of Weymouth. And so was his father, Wilson Tirrell Jr.; and his grandfather, Wilson Tirrell - the first of the line of Wilsons, and so was every other Tirrell ancestor way back to the time that Gideon, younger son of our founder ancestor, William Therrell, purchased his first piece of land in Weymouth, in 1686. To me, as a youth the names Weymouth and Tirrell were synonymous. One could not exist without the other. Everyone in town was a Tirrell, or if not a Tirrell, was somehow related to the Tirrells. There was the old shoe factory of the first Wilson Tirrell built in 1808, now destroyed to make room for a super-highway; and the old Albert Tirrell mansion, now site of the South Shore Hospital; and other Tirrell landmarks too numerous to mention. The cemeteries were full of Tirrells, long since departed. My father delighted in pointing out the Tirrell landmarks, every time we journeyed from Brockton to Weymouth. Although my impression was that the Tirrells were the only family in Weymouth, the History of Weymouth does show that many other families did live there; some longer than the Tirrells. But it was our town. Even reading the little Tirrell Genealogy published in 1851 by Benjamin Tirrell, I gathered that the family was at one time 10% of the voting population, and collectively paid the greatest amount of tax into the town's treasury. The family provided town officers, representatives to the Massachusetts General Court, and a Congressman to Washington. The Tirrell sons answered the call of early colonial wars, the Revolution, Civil war, World War I, and World War II. All these things, my father told me. He omitted the tragedies, as parents are wont to do, leaving these to be discovered by genealogical research.

I became interested in Ancestry and Genealogy in 1926, after the death of my maternal great-uncle. He lived in Cohasset, Mass. a town nearby to Weymouth, in a house built in 1725. Over his fireplace there hung a Pratt Coat of Arms painting of some ancient vintage. I became interested in the origin of this Coat of Arms, and soon traced it to the painter, James Cole. He was one of those itinerant painters, owner of a book on Heraldry, who applied a good brush to a prepainted background, and for a fee produced a Coat of Arms belonging to some ancient person. No lineal relationship between the original patentee of the Arms and the person for whom it was painted was known to exist, but a desire was satisfied. The same condition exists today, except the painter comes by mail instead of in person.

During my early business years, I traced the ancestry of my children, i.e. both paternal and maternal lines. This was comparitively easy- we were strictly a New England family, mostly based in Plymouth and Norfolk Counties of Massachusetts. Also during these early years I did a considerable amount of travelling, often being away from home for a considerable period of time. Ancestor searching occupied many evenings and weekends when holed down in a hotel- after all one couldn't go to the movies or theater every night. And the concentration required for this type of research was found to be quite relaxing.

But while I found publications to cover the families of most of my other ancestral lines, except for the little Tirrell Genealogy, and later, after it was published, the History of Weymouth, no publication could be found covering our Tirrell family. I knew that there was a William Tirrell, older brother of Gideon, who had first settled in Weymouth and later moved to the adjoining town of Abington, but I had no idea of the extent and number of his descendants. While the Weymouth Tirrell family "stayed put", and today there are many Tirrells to be found in Weymouth, I had no idea that William's descendants were numerous, and scattered to the four winds, until today only a handful of Tirrells remain in the three towns which were cut out of Old Abington.

In November 1963, shortly after my retirement from a very active life as a Professional Engineer, I decided to see how far I could go in bringing the records of our Tirrell family up to date. Being retired I could and have devoted most of my time to this project.

This work could not be accomplished without the help of every living Tirrell. Using the Telephone Directories as guides, letters were sent to most of the Tirrells listed, but not all, if it appeared that one member of the family living in a locality might answer for all. Letters were also sent to many Town Clerks. To date over 1500 letters have been sent out in a period of 35 months. This includes the several letters to the same individual needed to clear up important dates and other facts. The response to these letters was terrific - about 80% - even if occasionally I did have to nudge a few of my correspondents.

From this correspondence, I found many other members of the family had compiled records of their own immediate and collateral family. These loyal members of the family have shared their research with me. Besides thanking all those who responded to my letters, I especially want to thank Mrs. Gertrude (Tirrell) Bates of Cohasset, Mass.; Mrs Harry Ladd of Canaan, Vt.; Mrs. S. Leota (Tyrrell) Mutz of Lincoln, Nebraska; Mrs Clyde E. Tyrrell of Stockton, Illinois; Mrs. Esther (Tirrell) Cook of Hanover, Mass.; all of whom generously gave me their records, and Mrs. Franklin C. Thompson of Concord, N.H.; Mrs. Robert N. Cleveland of Montpelier, Vt.; Mrs. L. K. Dodge of Chichester, N.H.; Mr. William Perry Johnson of Raleigh, N.C.; and Miss Ruth E. Thomas of Belmont, Massachusetts; all professional genealogists who have researched special areas for me. I cannot omit my good friends, Mr. Richard Elwell of Boston; Mr. H. Raymond Morse of Whitman, Mass. and Mr. Raymond Winslow Jr. of Hertford, N.C.; none of whom I have met personally, and none of whom is directly related to the Tirrell family, but who have searched locally for me on my frequent requests - I hope to be able to return the compliment.

I also want to thank the many Town Clerks of Massachusetts, and elsewhere, who have replied to my many inquiries, sometimes with, but often without fee. I especially want to thank Mr. Harry Christensen, Town Clerk of Weymouth, Mass., who further arranged for one of his assistants, Mrs. Martha Gaudreau, to copy all current Weymouth Vital Records, within the limits permitted by State laws.

That omissions and mistakes will be found in this Book is a foregone conclusion. For all mistakes, I apologize. I hope that they may not be too serious, but in a genealogy all mistakes are serious. I hope that the readers of this work will bring every mistake found to my attention. For omissions, I again apologize, if such omission is due to neglect in my research. But for the omission caused by the 20% who ignored my letter requests, I make no apology.

Hopefully our family will continue to prosper and grow. The records of new generations will be added to those of the past. While there are some events which the family could have done without, and what family does not have something hidden in the closet, it has been a family of gentle folk, whose biggest fame is to avoid getting their name in Big Print.

IT'S nice to come from gentle folk
Who wouldn't stoop to brawl,
Who never took a lusty poke
At anyone at all,

Who never raised a raucous shout
At any country inn
Or calmed an ugly fellow lout
With a belaying pin,

Who never shot a revenuer
Hunting for the still,
Who never rustled cattle, who're
Pleased with uncle's will,

Who lived their lives out as they ought,
With no uncouth distractions,
And shunned like leprosy
the thought
Of taking legal actions.

It's nice to come from gentle folk
Who've never known disgrace—
But oh, though scandal is no joke,
It's easier to trace!

INTRODUCTION

This work is the History and Genealogy of the TIRRELL Family, descendants of WILLIAM THERRELL whose name first appears on page 49 of Volume 9 of the Report of the Boston (Mass.) Record Commissioners, as follows:

> "William Therrell and Rebecca Simpkins, daughter of Capt. Nicholas Simpkins were married 29th, 11 Mo. (1654) by Richard Bellingham, Governor."

This work includes all known descendants of WILLIAM THERRELL, regardless of the spelling of our family name, which may have been or currently is used by his descendants.

At the time our WILLIAM was in Boston, or elsewhere, there were others carrying our family name in Boston and in the other colonies. Just how these are related to our WILLIAM THERRELL is not known, but there is little doubt that all are descended from some common ancestor who may have lived in England, or if not there, in France.

This work does not cover the genealogy of these other families, but for general interest, the names of some of these other early colonists are listed herein:

1. Daniel Turrell; in Boston circa 1640; Came from Instow, Devonshire - according to "Savage" and "Banks".

2. John Turrell; in Boston circa 1640; Also came from Instow, Devonshire - according to a Power of Attorney dated 1711, wherein John Turrell of Instow, eldest son and heir of Samuel Turrell, deceased, only son of John Turrell, late of Boston; and William Turrell of New England, sell land situated at corner of Cross and Hanover Streets in Boston. Many have assumed that the William Turrell named in this document is identical with William Therrell, our ancestor, but since our William died in 1682, it does not seem possible that he could be the man mentioned in the 1711 document. This John and William Turrell were undoubtedly related to Daniel Turrell of Boston. Instow records have been searched and no evidence has been found relating to these men, although the name is found in the churchyard at Instow.

3. Roger Terrill; Came to America from Nanzing, Essex, England on the ship "Lion", arriving in Boston on 14 Sep 1632. After tarrying awhile in Boston and nearby Roxbury, he moved to Connecticut with the migration that founded New Haven; later moving again over a religious dispute and founded a colony at Milford (Conn.), where he became progenitor of a large family. A genealogy of this family was in preparation by Mrs. Margaret Tyrrell Jerome of Dexter, Mich. at the time of her untimely death. The work was being continued by her daughter, Mrs. Helen Tyrrell Butler of the same address, until her death in January 1966. Others are now continuing the work.

4. Timothy Terrell; son of Timothy and Dorothy (Collard) Terrell was baptized at All Hallows, London, England on 5 Dec 1656; came to America as an orphan in 1672; married Elizabeth Foster and settled in New Kent, Virginia. A partial history of this family has been published under title "A Genealogy Line of Tyrrell, Terrell and Terrill Family of Virginia and Texas" by Roy Lee Terrell.

5. William Terrell and Richmond Terrell, brothers; settled in St. Paul's Parish, Hanover County, Virginia. A partial history of this family has been published under the title " Genealogical Notes on the Tyrrell-Terrell Family of Virginia" in two editions, 1907 & 1909, by Edwin H. Terrell.

There were other Tirrells of this and later periods, but the above few are the ones about whom some history has been written.

Our family name "TIREL" dates back to at least 950 A.D. As far as is currently known, the first to carry the name was one Ralf (Raoul) de Tirel, third of five sons of Gautier I (Walter) of Valois, Vexin and Amiens in France. His wife Adele (Adelaide) is believed to be daughter of Folques I, Count of Anjou.

This Ralf de Tirel married a daughter of the Seigneur de Guernanville, by whom he had two sons; Hilduin, Sire de Tirel and Folques de Tirel.

Folques (Fulke) de Tirel succeeded to the titles of Seigneur and Dean of Evreaux. He married Lady Orielda, a daughter of Richard I, 3rd Duke of Normandy. They had ten children.

Gautier I (Walter) de Tirel, the youngest son of Folques and Orielda, accompanied his relative, William the Conqueroe, to England in 1066. From this Walter, all Tirels (of all spellings) in England and Ireland are presumed to descend. The name is now extinct in France, but still continues in England, Ireland and America

Several explanations have been given as to the origin of our "Tirel" name. One is that it originated from the old French spelling of "Terre" meaning "land" or "high ground". The original Tirel estates were in the Vexin (France) on high ground at a place now known as "Triel-sur-Seine" - a simple reversal of letters. Triel-sur-Seine is situated near the conflux of the Oise and Seine Rivers, very near Pointoise.

A second explanation of the origin of the name is that it derives from the French verb "Tirer" meaning "to draw" as in drawing or pulling a bow-string, signifying that the family was famous for its archers. One commentator says that while William Tell and Robin Hood were more or less mythical Characters, our Walt Tyrrell actually lived and was a famous archer. He is blamed for the death of King William (Rufus) II of England, who was killed by an arrow while he and Walter Tyrrell were stag hunting in the Forest of Avon. This story is told in Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe" and in Costain's "The Conqueror". A more complete account of this incident is told in "A Genealogical History of the Tyrrells" (Irish house) by Joseph Henry Tyrrell, and in "Maison de Tyrel" by M. D'Arcy which gives the French version of the event.

The name of TIRELL is inscribed in the Battle Abbey, erected by William the Conqueror on the Battlefield at Hastings to honor those knights who accompanied him on his conquest against England.

The name "Waltern Tirelde" is found in the Doomsday Book, that record of land holdings, compiled by William the Conqueror about 1070, showing the amount of land held by the families of England at that time, for purposes of taxation. This record, still preserved by the English Government, shows that the Tirelde were among the largest land owners at that time. They retained possession of their lands for at least 700 years, and for the first 600 years each successive head of the house enjoyed the honor of knighthood.

Besides extensive land holdings in England, the family also enjoyed large estates in Ireland where Hugh, son of Walter, was the first of our name in that country. Some of the estates still exist. In the "History of Westmeath" Ireland, Hugh Tyrrell is called "the greatest fighter Ireland ever had since Brian Boru".

The name "Tirel" is among those who took part in the first, second and third Crusades. Sir Walter I, in the first Crusade was present at the Seige of Jerusalem in 1096; Sir Hugh, his son, was in the second Crusade in 1146; and Hugh, son of Sir Hugh, was in the third Crusade in 1190.

Our name has been and still is spelled in various ways. One English historian has noted that the basic spelling is T R L, to which any vowel, a-e-i-o-u and y, can be inserted between the T and R, and between the R and L to give various spellings. In addition the letters R and L can be doubled up or left as single letters to give a wider assortment in the spelling. We must concur with this explanation of the numerous ways the name is spelled. In Europe and the British Isles, the following spellings have been found:

de Tirel (French)
de Tyrel (French)
Thirel (French)
Tirelde (Norman English)
Tyrrell (English and Irish)
Tirrelli (Italian)
Trail (Scotch)

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has recorded the military record of her sons throughout the American Revolution, in seventeen volumes entitled "Soldiers and Sailors of the American Revolution". In this work, our name is listed under twenty-three different spellings; the record of the same man under more than one spelling. The Massachusetts Revolutionary War Records of our Tirrells (and variants in spelling) is included in a later chapter of this book.

The difference in spelling shows that years ago the average individual was not sufficiently well educated to be able to read or write. For the few documents that were written, it was common practice to have others, better educated, do the writing. In many of these documents, where there is a signature, and especially in Wills, Deeds etc., it is often noticed that the spelling in the text varies from the spelling of the signature; often several spellings are used in the whole document, as is the case in the Will of our WILLIAM THERRELL. It was not until after the Revolution that uniform spelling came into being, with one spelling passed down from generation to generation.

While other spellings are occasionally used by our immediate family today, in general, the following are in use: TIRRILL, used by descendants of William (11) who settled first in Weymouth, and later in Abington, Mass.; TIRRELL, used by descendants of Gideon (12) who settled and remained in Weymouth, Mass.; TYRRELL and TERRILL adopted by some of the descendants of William (11) after they migrated from Abington, Mass. While the early records show the use of TURRELL that spelling has disappeared entirely from our family, although it is still in use in other unrelated lines.

Because of these differences in spelling, it has been very difficult to trace the family. This is further complicated, when it is remembered that the descendants of Daniel Turrell, Roger Terrill, Timothy, William and Richmond Terrell, as well as other spellings are to be found in every State in the Union and Canada.

Sooner or later every person interested in his genealogical background seeks information about a coat-of-arms to which he has rightful use. In Heraldry, Arms, Crests and Mottoes are assigned to specific families for valor and honor. Some of these heraldic devices are issued for use of one generation only, More often the use of Arms descended from generation to generation, usually to the oldest son, especially in England. When a younger son was also entitled to use of arms, the form of the Arms was usually retained, but the tincture (color) was altered, or other minor change made, to indicate that the Arms did not belong to the main line of the family.

The earliest armorial devices recorded for the Tirel family were probably those assumed by Ralf de Tirel, Ca. 970 A.D., for the device used by Ralf's older son, Hilduin, was a shield "Vair". This was a protective shield used in battle, covered with a red dyed fur. This was also the Arms of Walter I de Tirrel, who accompanied William the Conqueror to England, and was used by his son, Hugh, and grandson, Hugh.

Hugh II, being present at the Seige of Jerusalem in 1096, changed his Arms to those of the town of Poix in France, to distinguish himself from his kinsman, the Sire de Tirel, who was also at Jerusalem and was carrying the "Vair" Arms. The "Poix" Arms are "Gules. a bend argent, between six cross crosslets fitche' at the foot, or; three and three".

Since this date several Arms have been issued to different branches of the family, those in England differing greatly from those in Ireland. The Arms assigned to the English house of Tyrrell of Essex, Bucks etc. is described as "Argent, two chevronels azure, within a bordure engrailed gules". This is the Arms usually assumed by the American branch of the family seeking this distinction.

The Crest for this English family is "A Peacock's tail issuing from the mouth of a boar's head, couped, erect", and the Motto for this same branch of the family is "Sans Dieu Rien" (Nothing without God).

No one can deny Americans the right to assume Arms, but the accepted practice is to use only those Arms which their founder ancestor actually brought to America. In our case, we know of no armorial devices which truly belonged to our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRELL. Let's face it. The fact that he had a trade would indicate that he was from a Cadet branch of the family, rather than from the Landed Gentry, which is why his origin is so difficult to trace.

ARRANGEMENT AND SPELLING

The arrangement of this book follows the usual pattern for genealogies, wherein one chapter is devoted to each generation. For the larger and longer generations, two or even more chapters may be used, for the convenience of your author in making corrections before publication.

Each individual is identified by a number. The numbering pattern used is:

1. William Therrell
   1A. Rebecca
   11. William
      111. William
      112. Samuel
         112-1. Samuel
         112-A. Miriam
            Etc.

Our founder ancestor, William Therrell, is No. 1; his two sons are numbered 11 & 12; and his two daughters, 1A & 1B. The sons of No. 11 are numbered 111, 112, 113, etc. and the daughters, numbered 11A, 11B, 11C etc., in each case adding a digit to the parent's number for sons, and a letter, for daughters. This method of numbering permits additions and insertions to be made at any time without disturbing numbers already assigned. This method also permits future generations to assign numbers to themself and to their children.

The descent from Tirrell daughters, whose children carry the name of their father's family, is carried only through the birth record of the children. The record of her spouse is complete, where possible, to identify him with his parents, so that those interested may tie to the ancestral tree of his family.

The descent from adopted children has been treated the same as from natural children.

Except for the current generations of children, now living and who are still minors, and for most adults over age of maturity, but not married, a separate paragraph is provided to record the genealogical record.

It will be noted that open space is left for every item of genealogical record which has not been found. It is hoped that those who search this book may be able to fill some of the missing data, and will advise the author of such additions. If sufficient new data is found early enough an addenda can be published.

It has been the intent of your author to spell the family name in the manner that the individual himself spelled it. Errors will occur and occasionally the spelling may be in one of the other forms. Just when or why the spelling changed from one form to another is not known. Sometimes more than one spelling has been found in Will, Deeds and similar document. In this case it has to be assumed which spelling is correct, Usually the spelling of the parent is assumed, otherwise the spelling used by the children. Hence it can be seen that no attempt has been made to make all members of our family conform to one spelling - maybe that would be helpful for future generations, if we did - but after all, who is to say which spelling is correct. If we knew the ancestry of our founder, WILLIAM THERRELL, that question might be answered.

WILLIAM THERRELL

Normally, the biographical sketch of our founder ancestor, WILLIAM THERRELL, would begin with the names of his parents and the date and place of his birth, and would conclude with the date and place of his death.

In spite of extensive (and expensive) research, nothing has been found, to date, concerning the origin of our William. Where he was born, the names of his parents, why he used the odd spelling of our name, and other facts of his early life must be left to the searches of future historians of the family.

It can be assumed that William was of English origin, especially since his adult life was spent in English settlements of the New World.

From more than one source, during the compilation of this genealogy, have come stories that William was one of three brothers, two of whom came to America, and one who remained, or was retained, in England. None of these correspondents could supply any further data which would authenticate the story. But since the story persists, it must be assumed that there is some truth in it; for as the old saw goes "Where there's smoke, there's fire". Eventually the truth will be found.

Cyrus Nash, born in Abington, Mass. in 1780; died there in 1850, was critically injured as a youth, and unable to perform any of the usual labors of a healthy man. Instead, he devoted his energy, from 1804 to 1848, to record in several volumes of diaries, the events, historical and genealogical, which occurred in and about his native Abington. In his diaries, recently discovered and currently being transcribed by the Historical Society of Old Abington, are two separate references to the origin of our family, as follows:

> " Tirrell - John Tirrell, Old Miller, Town Clerk 28 years brothers Eben^{r}, Nath^{l} --- their father said to come from England, Falmouth, and Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Dyer came with him to America --- probably gr.f. instead of f." (GIII:87-8)

and

"Tirrell - There were more of the same family who resided in Weymouth, where the before mentioned migrated from, said Elihu Tirrell, that he heard his grandfather John Tirrell of Weymouth say (the old Miller, grandfather of the present John Tirrell, who was son of John Tirrell & the latter was son of the old Miller - the Town Clerk, in that place for the space of 28 yrs) say that there were three brothers of them. His name was John and owned the Tirrell Grist Mill so called, now Ezra Reed's. Another, Nathaniel, father of the late Nathaniel Tirrell of this town (Abington) lived below on down in town. The father said he came from Falmouth, England and Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Dyer came with him to America. I think there must be a mistake - probably that the father of John, Ebenezer and Nathaniel was a brother of William, Thomas and Samuel Tirrells of this town (Abington). And their father probably came from England as before mentioned, and not the father of John, Ebenezer and Nathaniel" (GIV 18:19.)

Evidently Cyrus Nash still missed a generation or two, but he did sense that something was wrong.

It is presumed that the Mr. Humphrey referred to is Jonas Humphrey, who with his family were early settlers of Weymouth. Jonas Humphrey came to America from Wendover in Buckinghamshire, England.

It is also presumed that the Mr. Dyer referred to is Thomas Dyer another early settler in Weymouth; or he could have been William Dyer who settled in Sheepscott, Me. and whose grandson, William, became an earlier settler of Weymouth. Just where the Dyers came from is not too well established.

Accepting the above accounts of Cyrus Nash, we can at least assume that our William Therrell and Messers Humphrey and Dyer sailed for America from the seaport of Falmouth, in Cornwall, England. Whether he originated from this seaport is subject to further investigation.

In 1851, Benjamin Tirrell of Weymouth, Mass., published his "Tirrell Family" which covers the early genealogy of the Tirrells who lived in Weymouth; but completely ignored the Tirrells who lived in the adjoining town of Abington, Mass.

Benjamin Tirrell also sought information concerning the origin of our first William Therrell and, like Cyrus Nash, turned to the descendants of John Tirrell, the old Miller and Town Clerk. To quote Benjamin Tirrell:

"At this late date (1851) in the absence of records, it is impossible to learn the exact time at which our ancestor arrived in this country. John Tirrell, who was for many years Town Clerk of Weymouth, had in his possession a manuscript, which was written by his grandfather, Gideon. It recorded the Town and County in England, from whence he came. That paper seems at this time to be irrecoverably lost. Although it is but a few years since the work is missing.

"As nearly as can be ascertained from present information the Town is Thorne in Yorkshire".

There is one Town of Thorne in Yorkshire, but to date no further reference has been found to indicate that our William may have come from there. On the other hand, one of the ancestral homes of the Tirrells is Thornton Hall, situated in Buckinghamshire not too distant from Wendover and Lees. If Thornton Hall were meant, this would tend to confirm Cyrus Nash's reference to Messers Humphrey and Dyer. Further search is definitely needed.

Certainly our William Therrell was not William Turrell who in 1711, together with John Turrell of Instow, Devonshire, England, gave title to land in Boston. In 1711, our William Therrell was already deceased. The deed could have been signed by William[2], eldest son of William Therrell as "one other son" but in 1711 he was living in Abington. So far no evidence has been found to show that the William who signed the Boston Deed is of the same family as our William Therrell, other than the fact that the same given names seem to be used in both families. Turrells are buried in the graveyard of The Parish Church of St. John (Baptist) in Instow, but none of the names can be identified with our family, and the Parish Register does not go back to 1711, it having been lost or destroyed for that period. Neither do the records of Instow, give sufficient data to identify the fact that Daniel Turrell of Boston originated from Instow, although this seems to be an accepted fact.

Heretofore, the few facts known about our WILLIAM THERRELL are those found in such works as:

a) Genealogical Dictionary of First Settlers of New England; by James Savage; 1860-62.
b) Report of Boston Record Commissioners, Vol. 9.
c) Tirrell Family; by Benjamin Tirrell; 1851
d) History of Weymouth, Mass.; by Joy & Chamberlain: 1923

Today, as the result of considerable research, somewhat more is known about William, especially that period of his life from the time of his marriage in Boston, New England in 1654, to the time of his death in Little River, Albemarle County, Carolina, in 1682.

As previously stated, the first recorded knowledge of our WILLIAM THERRELL is that of his marriage in Boston:

> William Therrell and Rebecca Simpkins, dau. of Capt. Nicholas Simpkins were married 29th 11 mo. (1654) by Richard Bellingham, Governor.

It will be noted that William was married by the Governor of Massachusetts Bay Colony, and not by a Minister of the Gospel. It is not known to which religious body, if any, William was associated at that time. A search of early Church records in Boston has failed to show either admission or dismission from any of the churches there, -- and "everyone had to attend church". It is possible that he did not actually live in Boston, although all of his children were recorded as having been born there.

William's father-in-law, Capt. Nicholas Simpkins, a tailor by trade, was the first commander of Castle Island Fort in Boston Harbor, in the year 1634. He occupied this post for one year only. After retiring from command of the fort he lived successively in Yarmouth, Barnstable, Scituate and then returned to Boston in 1650 where he lived until his death about 1656. According to "Topographical Dictionary" by C.E. Banks, Capt. Simpkins came to America from Burcoat, Northamptonshire, England. His widow, Isabel, died in Boston in Sep 1688. William Therrell, by his Will, was a Merchant-Taylor. Could he have been apprenticed to Capt. Simpkins to learn tailoring, and upon completion of his time (usually at age 21) married the daughter of his Master? This was often the case. We can only ask the question - we have no answer.

William and Rebecca (Simpkins) Therrell had four children as recorded in Volume 9 of the Report of the Boston Record Commissioners and as shown in the tabulation on the succeeding page.

51	1655	Rebecca	of William and Rebecca Turell - born 26th Dec.
64	1658	William	of William and Rebecca Thorull - born March 16.
80	1661	Mary	of William and Rebecca Thirrell - born Apr 6.
93	1664	Gideon	of William and Rebecca Turrell - born July 16.

All of these children lived to adult age and all married. All four are named in the Will of William Therrell (1682). The uniform spacing of these children might indicate that William spent considerable time away from Boston, and absence of records about him in Boston would seem to confirm this fact.

He may be the William Terrall, tailor, whose name appears in New London (Conn.) in 1662, but who is reported to have left shortly thereafter. A John Terrall, seaman, was also in New London at this same time. John's two children, William and Mary, were baptized there on 7 May 1671. John died on 27 Feb 1712, and his wife, Sarah (Willey) Terrall died there on 7 Mar 1712, only days after John's death. This record is taken from the "History of New London" by A.M.Caulkins. It further says that the name probably should be spelled Tyrrell.

That our William was still living in Boston in the year 1669, but absent at the moment, is proven by the fact that on 24 Jan of that year his wife, Rebecca Terill of Boston, and Debora Burrill (her sister), wife of George Burrill, in two separate instruments, deeded to their brother, Pilgrim Simpkins, "for the avoiding of all future difference between them", their rights in the family home which they jointly had inherited from their mother, Isabel Simpkins.

The deed given by George Burrill and his wife, Debora, was signed by both George and Debora; he by his signature, and she by her mark.

However, the deed given by Rebecca Terill was signed by her alone, by her mark, and William's signature was omitted in spite of the fact that the text of the deed read "that his (Pilgrim Simpkins) sd two sisters with their husbands" etc. William apparently was absent from Boston at this time.

These two deeds were not recorded immediately after being signed by the two sisters, but were recorded "8 5th mo. 1675". (Suffolk

The History of Weymouth (Vol. 4:655) states that near 1672 William Tirrell removed from Boston to Weymouth, and in 1678-9 took the Oath of Allegiance. It has not been determined where the authors of that History obtained information concerning William's move to Weymouth in 1672. The fact may be correct. But the William who swore allegiance in 1678-9 is without doubt the son, William (11) who had just arrived at age 21; and besides William (1) was at this date busily engaged in Carolina.

This completes all data that has been found to date about William Therrell in Boston. Searches of Massachusetts Archives, Church, Judicial, Land and Probate Records reveal nothing further about him or his family.

In 1676 William Therrell is found to be in Perquimans Precinct of Old Albemarle County, (North) Carolina.

"Mr. William Therrill of this County (Albemarle) and Mrs. Jeane Godfrey weare married" on 2 Dec 1676 by Mr. (John) Wood, a Minister of the Gospel. (North Carolina Historical & Genealogical Register - Vol. 3:200) and (History of Perquimans - Pgs 309, 445)

Mrs Joane Godfrey was widow of Francis Godfrey, an early pioneer in Old Albemarle County. He is said to have graduated (A.B.) from Peterhouse, Cambridge University, in 1629. He was probably a native of Suffolk, England. Francis Godfrey was a member of the Carolina Council under Governor Stevens (circa 1673). He died on 9 Nov 1675. His Will was dated 20 Aug 1675, and eventually probated on 25 Mar 1680. His widow, Joane, was named executrix; John Culpepper (from whom Culpepper's Rebellion was named) was one of the witnesses. He was survived by two sons, William and John. (Ye County of Albemarle, N.C.) and (History of Perquimans - Pg. 357) Incidentally the inventory and appraisal of Francis Godfrey's estate is a masterpiece in showing the property owned by a well-to-do planter of that period.

With this marriage, William Therrell assumed the widow's duties as executor of the estate of Francis Godfrey.

Life was rugged in those early colonial days, and Mrs. Joane Therrell died on 3 Feb 1676-7, in Albemarle, less than one year after her marriage to William. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:365)

"William Therill - - - probated the Will of Mr. Francis Godfrey before the Grand Council. Wm Therill had married the relict of sd deceased, the executrix of sd Will, she now also deceased". (North Carolina State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg.5 - Council Meetings, Wills and Inventories - 1677 to 1701).

In the March 1680 Court it was ordered that "John Godfrey chose his guardian, and the two grandchildren of Francis Godfrey be committed to ye guardianship of Mr. Wm Therrill; the administrator to clear the estate as much as can be forthwith". (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:138).

Next "Mr. William Therrill and Mrs. Ann Cooke were married the 12 of July 1677" (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:200) and (History of Perquimans - Pg. 309).

Mrs. Ann Cooke was widow of Thomas Cooke who died at Albemarle on 25 Mar 1677. (N.V.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:199)

"Alexander Lillington Esq. & Wm Therill, both of this (Albemarle) County, proved themselves the nearest related to estate of Thomas Cooke of this County, deceased; the sd Alexander being married to the deceased daughter (Elizabeth), and the sd William to the relict - Orders of administration granted to them" (N.C. Sate Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg.5) and (History of Perquimans - Pg. 37)

Mrs. Ann Therrell died in Albemarle County on 29 Apr 1679. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 1:137). Thus it is seen that within the space of ten years (1669-1679) William had lost three wives, Rebecca Simpkins, widow Joane Godfrey and widow Ann Cooke.

It was about this time (1678-9) that John Culpepper and George Durant, both prominent citizens of Little River, Albemarle County, Carolina, opposed Thomas Miller, Secretary and Collector of Revenue in Albemarle County. Miller had been appointed by the King's Commissioners, and was also Acting Governor. Miller had tried to suppress trade with Massachusetts, which action arrayed against him the wrath of the Yankee shippers, of whom it can be assumed that our William was one. Aided by a "party within", namely wealthy George Durant and others, the uprising which followed culminated in what is now known as the "Culpepper Rebellion". Miller was ousted and a popular Parliament or Assembly form of government was set up. William Therrell was appointed to the new Assembly.

William Therrell died at Little River, Perquimans Precinct in 1682, making his Will on 3 Jun of that year. The Will was probated on 28 Sep 1682. In his Will, William named his two sons, William and Gideon, both of Weymouth in New England; and his two daughters, Rebecca, wife of Joseph Smith of Boston, and Mary, wife of William Manson, presumably of Carolina. For Executors, he named his friends George Durant and John Hunt.

No inventory or accounting of the estate of William Therrell has been found. At the time that George Durant died (sometime in 1693) the estate was still in some dispute. At the session of the General Court held 6 Nov 1694, John Hunt, the surviving executor of William Therrell's estate, "presented a petition to the Court showing that Mrs. Ann Durant (widow of George Durant) held in her possession books and papers belonging to the estate of Mr. William Therrell, prayed that they be turned over to him, which was granted" (History of Perquimans - Pg.9)

In an undated deposition, "John Hunt, attor of W. & Gideon Therell" stated that William Therrell "imported into this government (Albemarle) himself, his son Wm., 4 Indians & 2 Negroes etc.". (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:139).

By his Will, William indicated that his estate was involved with that of Francis Godfrey, whose estate would first have to be settled before his own affairs could be completely settled. His involvement in the Godfrey estate is undoubtedly the reason that William was the subject of several court actions about 1677-80.

In Apr 1677, "John Swinsted of Island of Barbados gave Power of Attorney to H(enry) Babell, Marriner, to recover from William Terre(11) of Roan Oake, otherwise Albemarle River, who married Joane Godfrey, widow, late wife and executrix of Francis Godfrey, her former husband, deceased, proceeds of goods consigned to sd Francis in Oct 1674 & sent in the barque Patience, John Nixon, Commander. Witness John & Thomas Harvey". (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg. 154)

Again, on 9 Apr 1679 "John swinsted ye Elder of Bay of Spights in Island of Barbados, Merchant, gave Power of Attorney to John Harvey and John Hunt, both of Roan Oake in America, Planters, to recover from Wm. Terrill of or neare Roan Oake in America - - etc". (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg 154).

On 20 Mar 1680 at Court at Albemarle, Mrs. Margaret Culpepper, plaintiff against Wm Therrill, defendant, in an action of debt; and being put to jury found for the plaintiff; settlement, 8426 lbs of tobacco and costs. And on the same date, Thomas Walker, plaintiff, vrs Wm Therrell, defendant; jury found for plaintiff; settlement 1500 lbs of Tobacco and costs. And still a third suit on that same day; Wm Therrell vrs Wm Shute; non-suit for defendant. (N.C.H.G.R. Vol. 1:37). This was either a bad day for William, or else it was the only way he could settle the affairs of Francis Godfrey - the records do not show which was the case.

William Therrell was witness to at least one Will, and Administrator of one other. In 1680 "Thomas Harris desired Mr. Therill and my selfe if God should take him away that we should declare his desire is that one half of all his Reall Estate after all his debts paid, should be divided betwixt his two Sonnes, that is his Sonne Thomas Came in five years, and his personal Estate to his wife for her disposall for her life and then to his Sonne John. Signed Timothy Biggs. Proved 26 Mar 1680 Robert Holden. Sworn to in Court by Will. Therill" (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg. 13). And at the session of Court held on 27 Mar 1680 "Mr Joshua Lamb & Mr. Wm Therrell of this (Albermarle) County proved themselves greatest creditors of the estate of Abraham Kimberly of this County, deceased, & were granted orders of Administration. (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 1:137) also (N.C. State Archives - File SS 874.2 - Pg.5).

From William Therrell's Will it is learned that he was possessed of two plantations at the time of his death. The larger plantation, in Little River, commonly called THE QUARTER, consisting of 277 Acres (although his Will described it as 300 Acres) was left to his "oldest sonn William Terrill of Weymouth in New England". The second plantation, located "on the West side of Little River and bounding on the South side of Deep Creek" was left to "my other sonn Gideon Terrill of Weymouth aforesaid". The Will makes no mention as to the size of this plantation but does state that it was purchased from Lawrence Arnold. Arnold was undoubtedly the original grantee of this land.

"Sonn" William sold his plantation in 1716; "William Therell Sen'r of the town of Albington in New England, Province of Mass Bay, for £65 paid by Anthony Hatch of Albermarle, Planter, (sold) a tract of land in Perquimans, adj Capt Richard Sanderson - 277 A on 31 Mar 1716.. Test. John Gray, Samuel Therall, Will Brothers ". (Deed Book B-4).

In 1765, John Hatch, heir to Anthony Hatch sold this plantation to Capt. Richard Sanderson, an extensive land owner. (Deed Book C-219); the property continuing in the Sanderson family until about 1820 when the Sanderson holdings were divided and sold.

No positive identification has been made of the land left to "sonn" Gideon. No deed transferring the land from Gideon to others has been found. It is possible that it is the 95 Acres "that Thomas Cartright Senr hath bargained and sold - - - - - unto Samuel Right lying upon the South Side of Deep Creek in Little River, Bounding upon William Godfrey's Land on the upper side, and upon a plantation possessed by Mr Hunt belonging to one Mr Terrell - -". (History of Perquimans - Pg. 56) and (Deed Book A-230). This deed does not make it clear whether the plantation sold belonged to "one Mr Terrell" or whether the plantation possessed by Mr Hunt belonged to Mr. Terrell. Since John Hunt was "attor for W. & Gideon Therell" it is probably the latter.

About 1695, a petition was presented to the Governor & Council by Thomas Cartright "humbly presenting sheweth that about two years since your petitioner was at ye charg of surveying of a parcel of land upon Little River neer the mouth of Deep Creek, but Capt. Jno Hunt has obstructed yor petitioners proceedings upon pretense of being one Therrill's attorney in New England, and lays claime to the greatest part of said land. Your petitioner humbly prayeth that the Honorable Court will please to order ye said Capt. Jno Hunt forwith to Survey his part of said land yt he layes claime to according to the bounds of his bill of sale - - ". (N.C.H.G.R. - Vol. 3:250)

Prior to 1700, Capt. John Hunt was assessed in the Rent Roll for 450 Acres on Little River in Perquimans. This would indicate that the smaller plantation was about 150 Acres in size, assuming that the larger plantation was assessed for 300 Acres as indicated by William Therrell's Will (History of Perquimans - Pg. 449)

The town of Little River, where William Therrell lived and died, was the first town settled in Perquimans Precinct of Albemarle County. It occupied the lower end of Durants Neck on Little River. Here were held many General Courts. The town was designated as one of the four "Ports of Entry" for the Province of North Carolina where "ships shall laid and unlaid". Within this town dwelt all of the early notables of the Colony, such as Wm. Glover, Richard Sanderson, John Hecklefield and Thomas Jacocks. These people were all one generation later than our William Therrell. Near or in Little River lived the redoubtable George Durant. Court was held in his house in the years 1677-79, including the time of the trial of Thomas Miller, during the Culpepper Rebellion. (History of Perquimans - Pgs. 2, 48).

Unfortunately the earliest records of the town of Little Creek and the County around were burned during the Culpepper Rebellion, except for a few papers which escaped this fate by being lodged with the Secretary of State. (History of Perquimans - Pg. 7).

The town of Little River was the site of the earliest Quaker Meeting in Perquimans Precinct. (History of Perquimans - Pg. 29). We have no knowledge that our founder, William Therrell, was a member of this sect. The fact that he arrived in Boston about the time of Quaker persecutions in England, and left Boston about the time of Quaker persecutions there, suggests that he could have been a member of that faith. The fact that he was married in Albemarle by a Minister of the Gospel, and that he took part in the Rebellion against Thomas Miller would suggest otherwise. Certainly his two sons were not Quakers; they both being very active in the Congregational Church of Weymouth and Abington, Mass. Carolina gave every man the freedom of religious belief under the Great Charter given the Earl of Clarendon on 24 Mar 1663. Tolerance and indulgence to all Christians in the free exercise of their opinions were made into one clause of the Constitution, and no man could be excluded from the Assembly on account of his faith. (History of Perquimans- Pg. 34) This Constitution also provided that no man could serve on the Jury unless he held a freehold of land in the County; a Grand Juryman had to possess 300 Acres; a Petty Juryman, 200 Acres; a Constable, 100 Acres; and no man was called a freeman who did not acknowledge God.

In his Will, William Therrell called himself a Merchant- Taylor. Undoubtedly, he was engaged in trading. As stated before, the uniform spacing of his children suggests that he spent a great amount of time away from home. "Ships from Boston to Albemarle Sound brought articles needed by the Planters. These ships then took cattle and lumber from Albemarle to the West Indies, which they traded for sugar, molasses and rum. On the return trip the ships again stopped at Albemarle, trading their West Indies cargo for tobacco, which they took to New England and eventually to Old England. This was all accomplished at a good profit in supreme defiance of the Statutes, which enriched the Yankee merchant faster than the Lord Proprietors of the Colony". (Old Virginia and Her Neighbors - Pg. 270).

William Therrell's Will was sealed in wax with the impression of a swan in the wax. No significance of the swan impression has been found. It is not a recognizable device of any known Tyrrell Arms.

A copy of his Will follows:

William accompanied his father to Carolina ca. 1675, when his father first went there. He apparently did not stay there but returned to Weymouth where he was then living. He must have returned to Carolina, with his son Samuel in 1716, sufficiently long to sell the the plantation known as THE QUARTER which his father had left to him by his Will. He may have been the William Tirrell who moved from Boston to Weymouth in 1672, but definitely was the William who became a Freeman there in 1678/9. On 3rd March 1705 he purchased the whole of the Pratt grant of land in Abington from the sons of John Shaw, and settled on this land soon after. He was an house-carpenter by trade, and owned a saw mill. He disposed of the saw mill to his sons William, Gideon and Samuel in separate deeds. He was one of the founding members of the First Congregational Church in Abington. In his Will, dated 27 Apr 1727, he signs as William Tirrill, he is variously called "William Torrel" and "William Terrell". His wife and children are refered to as "Abigel terell", "Abigail terrel", "Abigil Torrel", "William Terrell", "William torell","Gideon Torrel", "Gidien Terrell", "Thomas terrel", Thomas terrell", "Thomas torell" and "Samuel terell".

MARY THIRRELL (1B)

second daughter of William (1) and Rebecca (Simpkins) Therrell.

Children: (2)
ii. Mary MANSELL b. 13 Aug 1692 do
iii. Elizabeth b. 12 May 1694 do

Whether Mary's first husband was from Albermarle or New England is not known. The name Manson is common to both localities. The fact that her husband was William Manson is shown in her father's Will. Mary apparently accompanied her father to Albermarle. At his death she was granted the use of the larger plantation at the pleasure of her brother William. No further record of the name Mara has been found but there is some indication that the name should have been recorded as Mansell.

GIDEON THURRELL (12)

younger son of William (1) and Rebecca (Simpkins) Therrell.
born: 16 Jul 1664 - Boston, New England.
died: 13 Oct 1730 - Weymouth, Mass.
marr:
to HANNAH SHAW.
dau of John and Alice (Phillips) Shaw.
born: 7 Apr 1668 - Weymouth, Mass.
died:

1. Gideon b. 18 Jun 1689 - Weymouth, Mass.

died: a youth	- 19 Jul 1715		do
3. John	b. 22 Aug 1700		do
D. Hannah	b. 1705		do

There is some controversy over the name of Gideon's wife. Some historians call her Hannah Kingman, daughter of Thomas and Rebecca ( ) Kingman. Others call her Hannah Shaw, daughter of John and Alice (Phillips) Shaw. A study of the probate records indicates that the latter is correct. Hannah was alive at time of division of the estate of John Shaw, and was mentioned in his Will.

Gideon Tirrell was an extensive landowner in Weymouth, Mass. The earliest deed found is dated 1686, and this is not apparently recorded today, although the deed indicates that it was recorded at the time. By this deed he purchased six acres of land from Matthew and Sarah Pratt; the land was adjacent to land he already owned. In 1698 he purchased seven acres fron Capt. John Holbrook, and in 1702, six additional acres from Benj. Ludden. In due time he owned 150 acres in Weymouth.

In 1693, Weymouth granted him the liberty of the river in the Town's Commons in a place called the Blades Mill to set up a fulling mill, "and to have one acre of land".

It is usually been claimed that Gideon Tirrell's home was located on Front Street, Weymouth, near the point where the super-hiway No 128 crosses under Front Street. It appears that this is not the location of Gideon' home. On the death of Gideon, his two sons, having purchased the rights of their sisters in their father's inheritance, divided the estate between themselves, Gideon taking mainly the grant lying near his own home place, and John taking that "which is the home place of said Gideon, deceased" with adjacent property. This is without question the mill property at the junction of Washington Steet near the Weymouth Town House.

Gideon was a member of the Church of Christ under the pastoral care of Rev. Mr. Paine. When a new church was formed in the South precinct of Weymouth, his name was at the head of the lay communicants. He was first moderator of the South precinct as well as one of the tax assessors.

At time of his death he was representative to the General Court of Massachusetts, where he had served in the years 1726, 1729 and 1730.

He was a carpenter by trade. He also carried the title of Sergeant.

His son was appointed administrator of his estate, 24 Nov 1730.

He was "cast away and froze to death on what is called Hangman's Rock in Braintree, now Quincy, Bay. He sailed from Boston with Capt. Alexander Nash of Weymouth & his negro slave on a pleasant morning in Ap[1] 1752. The day before it was warm enough to go comfortably with only a waiscoat on & the wind breezed up & blew them on the island where there was only a gunhouse on it & not any fire & it grew cold so fast that Job Tirrell got on shore and then went back for Capt. Nash, but he got so wet and cold that he soon became helpless & froze to death on board the coaster. Capt. Nash got on shore & had it not been for his negro he would have froze to death too, but the negro was froze as well as the Capt, but he got so chilled that he began to grow sleepy & the negro would take him by the heels & draw him about and that would awake him up & would threaten him severely if he did not let him alone but the negro rubbed him &c. The next morning they were taken off & the Capt freed him afterwards for saving his life" (Excerpt from Cyrus Nash's Diaries - G IV:15, 16)

In the above account Cyrus Nash indicates that this event happened to Job, son of Samuel and Mary, but as Job also died from service this was probably an error.

Without substantiating proof, it is the opinion of the author of this work that Rogers Tirrell an early resident of Poland, Maine, was the son of Thomas and Lucy Tirrell. That the sons of Ezra Warren went to this same area is indicative that Rogers accompanied them. The descendants of this Rogers Tirrell will be covered in a separate chapter.

After the death of her husband, Ezra Warren, Lucy went to live with her son Thomas at the westward (Cummington, Mass) where she died of Breast Cancer

Ezra Tirrell is described as a powerful and athletic man. "At one time a wrestling match came off between the towns of Weymouth and Hingham, Mass. The Hingham boys threw the Weymouth boys all out and a move was then made to go to Weymouth after Ezra Tirrell. We enganed a carriage and off we went and found him asleep in bed. He got up and put on his ruffled shirt, dressed himself and off he went to Hingham; went into the ring and felt the man over. He stepped a-round a few seconds; then gave a twitch and such was the force of it that he threw the man clear out of the ring, and turning around to look for him exclaimed 'where is he' " (The Tirrell Family)

Abel Tirrill with brothers Jonah and Nathan were in New Chester, N.H. as early as 1787. The 1790 census shows Abel in Bridgewater,N.H. with a family consisting of 1 male over age 16 yrs., 2 males under age 16, and 4 females. This would indicate that there were three daughters besides the two boys. His widow, Molly was appointed administratrix of his estate. Court files show no record of distribution, and state only that he left a widow and several children.

The 1790 Census of Massachusetts shows that Isaac Tirrell and Isaac Tirrell Jr. were living in Abington, Mass. and that Joseph Stetson (whose wife, Miriam) was sister of Isaac Jr. was living in Hanover, Mass. at the time the Census was taken.

The 1790 Census of Maine shows that Isaac Terral, Isaac Terral Jr., and Joseph Stotson were living in Waldoborough Town at the time the Census was taken. It is recognized that the reporter interchanged the names to three towns, Waldoborough, Nobleborough and Bristol, and that in fact these three families were living in Bristol, Me. While the number of each family differ in the two locations it is significant that the total of the three families reported in both locations is exactly the same except except for one male member. Since it is known that Joseph Stetson went to this area in Maine and died in Northport, Me. and since Alexander Tirrill married in Northport Me it is sufficient to assume he was son of Isaac Jr.

He left no Will. His intestate estate was probated by his wife, Elizabeth in 1827. Distribution included children of Elizabeth only.

James Tirrell was a shoemaker by trade and founded the first shoe shop in Weymouth. Earlier this building was an historic landmark in Massachusetts, but the construction of super-highway 128 destroyed the old building. It was located where Route 128 crosses under Front Street in Weymouth. James Tirrell"s widow married Cornet Ezra Reed in Weymouth on 1 May 1823. With his family of seven children and her family of seven, a lively household must have ensued. The boys of both families entered the shoe business, and this combined family can truly be called the founders of the shoe business in the Weymouth Area, which includes all neighboring towns. For four generations the names Tirrell and Reed could be found in the shoe business of the area.

Wilson Tirrell was one of the earliest shoe manufacturers in Weymouth, the site of his "Shop" formerly marked as an Historical site, has now been wiped out by construction of super-highway 128.

The two daughters of Wilson Tirrell who were murdered were both killed by poison by one George Canning Hersey. He was the brother of the husband of Susan Eliza. The case was one of the most sensational in Massachusett.

As a youth he attended the same schoolhouse in New Hampshire as President Franklin Pierce. He came to Grand Detour, Ill. in 1837 and was employed in the manufacture of lumber products, and also operated a ferry. He was acquainted with John Deere and saw him make the first three steel plows which was the start of his great industry. He moved to Moline, Ill. in 1850. He enlisted in the Civil War in 1863 in Co. H, 132 Illinois Infantry and served for 150 days. An ardent Abolitionist, Temperance man, and member of Congregational Church.

The death record of his son, Benjamin Butler Tyrrell indicates that Nathan Cram Tyrrell was born in Groton, Mass, which is doubtful.

This marriege was performed by the father of the bride, then a Justice of the Peace. An early directory of the County, calls her Louisa J. Partridge, but his Will calls her Eliza J. Tyrrell. Arthur went from New Hampshire to Illinois in 1835, first stopping at Kane County, Ill., but later moved on to Jo Daviess County where he arrived in Oct 1866. He was one of a group who went from Illinois to California during the 1849 Gold Rush, to be gone for 4 years; starting late in the season he lost most of his supplies enroute. He returned to Jo Daviess County in 1853, and named his next son Franklin Sutter after the finder of the Gold.

In addition he may have had Myrtle, Edith and Nellie. No proof has been found.
He came to Michigan with his father before 1837. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He was elected Treasurer of Sebewa Township, Mich at the first town meeting held on 6 Apr 1846, and also Commissioner of Highways and Overseer of Poor. In 1851 after he had left Sebewa Township there was a question over his accounts or of the monies retained by him, which the Supervisor was ordered to recover.
His second wife owned a farm in Carmel Township, Eaton County, Mich. and after his marriage to Mrs Featherstone he moved his family to her farm. With his third marriage, in 1851, he purchased the farm owned by Maria's parents in Charlotte, Mich. and moved to that farm, now known as the Tirrell farm.

Archer Gray and Nathaniel may be the same child; the death record of Archer Gray says he was 5 yrs/4 mo/7da., which would make him born in 1882. It has been assumed that the 5 yr was in error and should have been read as 3 yrs.

Also the birth records call the child Harry Wilson as Carrie Wilson, but later records indicate this to be in error.

Not realizing that other families spelled the family name as Tirrell, Frederic Clarence changed his spelling to that form because he thought that two "i"s, two "r"s and two "ll" looked funny when written. This is easy to understand when often our signatures look as if it had either an "n" or two "i"s in the middle.

Wilson Tirrell, the third of his name, like his father and grandfather were very active in the shoe business in the Weymouth and Brockton, Mass. area. At one time he and his twin brother, Warren, engaged in the firm W & W Tirrell. Their plant called the "Twin Factory" was the first to use steam power for driving the shoe machines in the area. He moved to Brockton, Mass. in 1892 which soon became one of the largest centers for manufacturing high grade men's shoes. Under union activity it has declined and most of the shoe activity has moved elsewhere. During the last 27 years of his life he was General Superintendent of one of the largest shoe manufacturers of the district, a company which became defunct soon after his retirement. He was a member of Paul Revere Lodge, A.F.& A.M for over 50 years. He and his twin brother were so similar in appearance, and engaged in the same type of work so that when sales personnel met them individually on the street they constantly confused one for the other, which the twins aided by assuming the counter-parts position, often to the salesman's later chagrin. In later years he made his home with his son, his wife being hospitalized.

and His Descendants

Although Augustus L. Tirrell died in Quincy, Mass. in 1923 at age 86, no satisfactory records have been found to establish his origin. He is without doubt a grandson of Joseph (122-211) and Lucy (Thayer) Tirrell who lived in Weymouth, and is probably the son of Joel (122-211-1) and Elizabeth (White) Tirrell. He was born about 1837, calculated from his death record and therefore should have been a youth of about 13 years in 1850 when the Census was made. In later records he calls himself as having been born in Weymouth, Mass. A search of the 1850 Census of Weymouth, fails to show Augustus as a member of any household there, including the 45 families having Tirrells in residence. Elizabeth (White) Tirrell died about 1838 when Augustus would have been but a few months old. The 1850 Census indicates that the several children of Joel and Elizabeth (White) Tirrell had been "Farmed Out" and were then living in the households of their aunts and uncles. One of the youths so listed was a Washington Tirrell, living in the household of Joseph and Lucy (Thayer) Tirrell, the grandparents. This Washington Tirrell has not been otherwise identified. He was age 13 at the time of the Census and listed as having been born in Michigan. It is probable that Augustus was living with one of his relatives, who may have lived in an adjoining town; even with his Aunt, Louisa Melissa (Tirrell) Poole, wife of Caswell Gould Poole, in nearby Holbrook, Randolph or Braintree. If this analysis is correct, then Augustus married his own first cousin. Nothing is known of his adult life. One report is that he lived apart from his wife who raised the three children who grew to adulthood. He lies in an unmarked grave beside his wife, in Randolph, Mass.

His known record is as follows:

Rogers Tirrell, the founder of this branch of our Tirrell family, is not to be confused or identified as Roger Terrell (Tyrrell) the founder of the Connecticut branch of the family. They are two distinct individuals and lived in two distinct parts of New England, and over a century apart.

Rogers Tirrell's name first appears in the early vital records of Poland, Maine as Tivil, with the names of his first four children, and later as Tiril with the next two children. The published record lists the Diman Perry family directly ahead of that of Rogers Tivel. It is possible that they all comprised one household in the pioneer country. Diman Perry's name is found in the 1790 Census of Maine, as living in Bakerstown.

Searching for the source of the name ROGERS it is found that Thomas Tirrell (114) married Elizabeth Rogers. His son, Thomas (114-2) married Lucy Taylor, who as a widow remarried in Abington, Mass. in 1776, to Ezra Warren. Many of the children of this Ezra Warren, of Bridgewater, Mass., removed to Turner and Minot Maine, where in due time Rogers Tirrell lived. This would indicate that perhaps Rogers Tirrell is the son of Thomas (114-2) and Lucy (Taylor) Tirrell. Until other data is found, this seems a reasonable assumption, but until such records are found, it was felt that the records of this branch of the family should be made the subject of a separate chapter.

No further record has been found of the several children of Rogers and Penelope Tirrell other than sons Charles and Salmon. They undoubtedly left family; there are a few scattered Tirrells in the Sanford, Me. and Rochester, N.H. area who may belong to this family but to date the ancestry of these few has not been learned.

MASSACHUSETTS REVOLUTIONARY WAR RECORDS

The Revolutionary War Records of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts were published in 1896 in a 17 volume work entitled: SOLDIERS AND SAILORS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR.

Volumes 15 and 16 contain the war records of those of our family who saw service, as well as a few records of others of our name who probably are descendants of Roger Terrill, the early settler of Milford, Conn.

These records show 23 variants in the spelling of our name. As originally published the records are listed by family name according to the spelling used by the clerk who recorded the event. A study of these records readily shows that one individual may have had several service records, but listed under more than one spelling.

In the record which follows, the records of each individual have been grouped together, insofar as can be readily identified, regardless of the spelling of the family name. The basic guide has been the chronological order of service, as well as continuing service with the same regiment or officers. Insofar as possible, each individual has been identified by his genealogical number. No pretense is made that this listing is correct; it is possible that the service ascribed to one individual may actually belong to another of the same given name. Also, the listing is complete; no attempt has been made to exclude names not belonging to our own family.

Reference to the original source is given in each case by Volume and page.

REFERENCES AND SOURCES

The genealogical record of each individual included herein is concluded with a coded reference to "R" and "C" sources.

Basically "R" sources cover material already in print, or which can readily be obtained from public offices.

Basically "C" sources cover material obtained by correspondence with others such as individuals, volunteer and paid researchers, town city and county Clerks, Probate offices, Historical Societies, Cemetaries, or any other potential source of data applicable to our family. As previously stated over 1400 letters were mailed to these groups. Not all 1400 letters were fruitful. Some were returned for insufficient address; recipients of some ignored the request for information about the family; other replies referred to families not related to our William Therrell. Because of the varied nature of all this correspondence, including the fact that some of the letters may be classed as "confidential", no indication will be made herein to show the origin of these many sources covered by the "C" reference. This must be considered as the Author's personal file; the reference being shown only to indicate that data has been obtained from sources considered to be reliable. Meanwhile the Author will answer specific questions directed to him by any individual, if the questions are considered to fall within his province to so answer.
